Election/Restrictions

Responsive to communications entered 12/10/2009. Claims 1,38,40-41,50-52 are pending.

The following election of species has been necessitated by applicant's amendment to the claims entered 12/10/2009 therein introducing species previously not considered in the examination of group I.

Markush Group Member (Species) Election

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, or a single grouping of patentably indistinct species, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Each genus identified below is indicated in bold.

(A) From claim 1: Applicant is to elect an ultimate species of core material selected from the group consisting of: aluminum phosphate, bismuth oxide, iron II oxide, iron III oxide, silver, silver oxide, titanium oxide, zinc, zinc selenide, and zirconium oxide. Currently claims 1 is generic for invention group I.

The Markush group members are independent and/or distinct because the members have distinct and/or independent chemical, physical, and/or biological properties that are mutually exclusive and therefore are not considered obvious variants of each other. For example, core compound silver reduces aldehydes and conducts electricity whereas aluminum phosphate does not.

In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply:

The species require a different fields of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

The prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or a grouping of patentably indistinct species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species, or groupings of patentably indistinct species from which election is required, are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to CHRISTOPHER M. GROSS whose telephone number is (571)272-4446. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9:30-6:00.
